ROOSEVELT SEES
HIS SON MARRIED

Theodore, Jr., and Miss Eleanor Alexander Wed.

HUGE CROWD LOOKS ON

Former President Shares Interest with Bride.

Ceremony Performed at Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church—Rough Riders Invited at Last Moment. Cameras Click to Catch Col. Roosevelt and Miss Alexander as They Alight from Their Autos.

New York, June 20.—Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., this afternoon married Miss Eleanor Alexander, the daughter of Mrs. Henry Addison Alexander, of 42 West Forty-seventh street.

Long before 4 o'clock the hour set for the ceremony, the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, at Fifty-fifth street and Fifth avenue, was more than comfortably filled by the early arrivals among the 300 invited guests, and Fifth avenue for two blocks north and south of the church and along Fifty-fifth street was crowded with people, who seemed, at least the women, who formed the majority, equally divided between the desire to get a glimpse of the bride and a look at Col. Roosevelt.

In the interest over these two the bridegroom was almost forgotten, and few saw him when he arrived at the church an hour before the ceremony. But this is the usual rate of bridegrooms, and Theodore, Jr., didn't seem to mind it at all.

Rough Riders Invited.

Just at the last minute Col. Roosevelt remembered that his former regiment of Rough Riders was in town and that they hadn't been invited. That wouldn't do at all, and in no time Kenneth D. Robinson was hurrying around to the Rough Riders' headquarters, at the Hotel Buckingham, to tell "the boys" to jump into their uniforms and come along. There was a mighty scurrying about for uniforms and strenuous efforts to round up the missing, but nearly fifty of the men managed to get together, and, marching two abreast, reached the church in time to add a military touch to the wedding.

All this time the crowd outside the church had been growing, but it was a well-behaved gathering, at least, during the arrival of the guests and while the ceremony was being performed, and, marching two abreast, reached the church in time to add a military touch to the wedding.

FINDS 5,000 LETTERS.

Col. Roosevelt Has Huge Task Ahead of Himself.

New York, June 20.—Between seeing his son married and visiting his publishers and slaving up the work on his desk at the Outlook office, Col. Roosevelt put in a busy day. He got up early to do it all, for it was hardly 6 o'clock when he boarded the government yacht Dolphin at Oyster Bay for the trip to the city with Secretary of the Navy Meyer.

The Secretary broke a city ordinance by firing a salute of twenty-one guns, to let New York know Mr. Roosevelt was coming when the Dolphin drew abreast of the landing at the foot of East Twenty-fourth street. The ordinance which the enthusiastic Secretary broke forbids the firing of salutes off Bellevue Hospital.

When he got ashore, Col. Roosevelt hurried over to the Outlook office, where he greeted Dr. Lyman Abbott and looked over his correspondence. After an hour Col. Roosevelt walked down to Scribner, and talked over his forthcoming book.

One of the biggest jobs which Col. Roosevelt found himself confronted with when he reached the Outlook office was the looking over of nearly 5,000 letters. It looked as though almost every one with a spare hour taken pen in hand to write to the former President. Col. Roosevelt will not attempt to look them all over himself, and he said that while he would like to read every one himself and did not doubt that many old friends would be glad to do so, yet he hoped the people would understand that it would be a kindness for well-disposed strangers to refrain from writing or sending telegrams to him.

RAPS EMPIRE JUDGES.

Representative Hughes Gives House a Shock.

The administration of justice by the Supreme Court judges in the city of New York was severely arraigned in the course of a speech in the House last night by Representative Hughes, of New Jersey.

While Mr. Hughes spoke facetiously, his reflections on justice in New York were such as to provoke replies.

Mr. Hughes said in substance that as soon as a man became justice in New York, immediately he became afflicted with the hook worm, the boll weevil, or some other "disease" that made him disposed to labor.

Representative Robert Bruce Macdonald, of Arkansas, stirred up trouble when he suggested that if the sixteen able-bodied members from Greater New York "got on the job" in the summer they could evolve a remedy for the situation.

Woodmen Hold Initiation.

West End Camp, No. 1289, Modern Woodmen of America, initiated Isaac B. Greene, of the American Security and Trust Company, into full membership in the order last night at a regular meeting, held at Pythian Temple. A report was read and approved on the first annual log rolling held at Chesapeake Beach.

NEEDS AN AFFIDAVIT.

York Man Measures Hailstone Weighing Fifty Pounds.

York, Pa., June 20.—All stories about hailstones falling from the clouds as large as hens eggs was eclipsed here today by William Diefenbaker, who lives in West Babylon.

He says that a hailstone composed of a lot of smaller ones, during a storm of Saturday night, fell in his back yard weighing fifty pounds or more. It was thirty-six inches long and fourteen inches wide.

At the time he called in several of the neighbors, who vouched for his statements. Some do not credit this story, and think that a quantity was swept together and frozen.

A portion of the curiosity was still intact today.

HARMON DEMANDS

TARIFF REVISION

Keynote to Be Sounded at Ohio State Convention.

Dayton, Ohio, June 20.—Harmon arrived from Columbus to-night to be in readiness for the Democratic State convention, which without the slightest opposition is to renominate him on Wednesday.

His speech of acceptance will be short and vigorous. It denounces the tariff policy of the Republican party, and in support, if not in actual phrase, declares that only the Democratic party can be trusted to revise the tariff in the interests of the great mass of the people.

Gov. Harmon is to make his campaign on State issues largely, but he feels that the national plank for the platform to be adopted by this convention are to be carried closely by Democrats in other States.

It is apparent to-night that little mention if any will be made in the platform of temperance matters. Ohio Republicans in this city to-day asserted that a similar attitude will be adopted by them at their convention at Columbus late in July.

Of the issue precipitated by William J. Bryan and taken up by Tom L. Johnson that the candidate for United States should be named in this convention contrary to the wishes of Gov. Harmon, Bryan, and Johnson are to be overwhelmingly defeated if present indications are of the slightest value.

ALEX. SMITH NEW

GOLF CHAMPION

Wins National Open Championship at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, June 20.—If Alex. Smith, of the Wyckoff Country Club, New Rochelle, had paid a little more attention to his putting on the eighteen green on Saturday he would have saved himself the process of playing another eighteen holes to-day in order to win the national open golf championship of the United States at the Philadelphia Cricket Club, St. Martin.

On Saturday Smith and his brother, MacDonald Smith, and J. J. McDermott, Mercantile, were tied for first place, which necessitated a play-off for the championship to-day. Alex. Smith asserted his superiority in no uncertain manner. He was much steadier and much more brilliant than his opponents' although on the first nine holes his brother held the lead of one stroke over him. Despite the fact that the latter blew up on the second hole and took a seven and also took a six on the sixth hole, he went out in thirty-six.

It was a match played squarely and fairly, in the utmost good fellowship, and there may never again be a triple tie of the sort to be decided anywhere in this wide world of golf. As it was at 238, it is easy to figure the odds for the winner, the winner's average being nine over even four, which is probably another world's record.

President Hughes gave the prize on the home green without any formality. Alex. Smith received $300, the golf medal, and gets the possession of the Championship Cup. McDermott won $150 and the Callaghan $100. On Friday at the Wilmington, Del., Country Club, Alex. Smith and George Sargent, the deposed title holder, will meet Will Anderson and Gil Nichols in a four-ball match.

FLEET TO BE BIGGER.

Naval Bill Additions Agreed to in Conference.

Important additions to the American fleet are authorized in the naval bill, which was agreed to in the conference yesterday.

The bill provides for the construction of two battle ships, four submarines, six destroyers, two fleet collars, and a number of surface torpedo boats. For the last-named craft an appropriation of $46,000 is made available. Vessels of this type cost in the neighborhood of $30,000 each.

Under the terms of the bill as agreed to in conference the Secretary of the Navy is permitted to try out for a year the efficiency of the Meyer plan of reorganization. This is not authorized in direct terms. The Meyer plan calls for the discontinuance of the Bureau of Equipment.

Checks for $1,700 to a Book Concern Canceled.

INVESTIGATION IS MADE

Biographical Firm Manager Is Said to Have a Past.

With Offices in the Colorado Building Members Are Busy Selling Volumes to "Eminent" Persons Who Have the Price to Be Included, and One Is Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, Who, It Is Said, Paid $1,000.

Checks to the amount of $1,700, made payable to the National Biographical Society of Washington, dated ahead to June 30, need not be presented for payment.

They have been canceled. These checks are only part of $2,300 in orders obtained by Dr. Albert W. Wadsworth, solicitor for the company. One check for $500 has already been cashed. The drawer of this check will get a copy of the book "The National Memorial of the United States; Dedicated to our Chief Executives and to one thousand American whose careers are an inspiring lesson to young men."

The dissatisfied subscribers who have stopped payment on their checks live near Philadelphia.

If one should think that $500 was rather a stiff price to pay for the volume, there may be consolation in the fact that Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, head of the Christian Science movement, paid just twice that, or $1,000, for the same name of a volume.

This is part of the programme for an over-the-ocean aviation meet that the Atlantic City Aero Club will hold during the week of July 4 to 31, inclusive. The "withering fire" and the "bomb" are to be taken only in the theoretical sense. The battle ship will train its guns on the airships and the aviators will drop bombs filled with sand. The guns of the man-of-war will be attached to a telescope camera and the act of firing will work with the shifter, taking a photograph of the actual position of the aeroplane and showing what the effect would have been had real projectiles been fired.

A prize of $1,000 will be given to the aviator who first succeeds in dropping upon the deck of the battle ship the "bomb."

In case the guns of the battle ship, as shown by the photographs, are successful in repulsing the attack the money will be given to the crew.

Curtiss, Hamilton, and Brooks will participate in the contest.

A fifty-mile speed race in the air over the ocean will be one of the chief events of the programme. Twenty-five thousand dollars has been raised as prize money for the aviators.

SPOLATOFF FREED.

Russian No Longer Held in the Lake Como Mystery.

Como, June 20.—The Russian, Spolatoff, who was arrested in connection with the murder of Mrs. Porter Charlton, was released to-day from custody. After leaving the jail, he said:

"I have been in prison ten days, which was a new experience for me. Before the murder I saw the Charltons perhaps a dozen times in all. She was very pretty and he very young to manage such a woman. They drank heavily."

Then he added thoughtfully: "One should be careful about making acquaintances."

The police are still searching for Charlton. They believe that he must now be on his way to the United States. They calculate that he had about $100 when he disappeared.

MURAY PUPILS RECITE.

Many Attend Annual Exercises at Naval Lodge Hall.

Pupils of Prof. and Mrs. H. L. Murray gave a recital last night in Naval Lodge Hall, and parents and friends of the pupils were present to present flowers and applaud.

"The Morning Star" was played by Little Sheppard, "Dancing in the Moonlight" by Margeline Bosley, and "Tripping Through the Daisies" was given by Beatrice Wells. "Squirrels Frolic" by Mildred Sult, was well received, and "Dancing Waves" by Patty Creevy, was a favorite, while the "Home, Sweet Home" waltz, by Kettie Miller, delighted the audience. "Afted Wild Flowers" by Robert Bayne, received favorable comment, and the "Little Fairy March" by Pauline Miller, proved a hit.

Others who took part in the exercises were Margaret Handboe, Esther Darcey, James Thayer, Margaret Ladd, Letitia Brooke, Carrie Wenger, Louise Frank, Wilford Brady, Lenore Riston, Gladys Phoebeus, Evelyn Thompson, Robert McCullough, Hazel McCullough, Sylvan Reichguth, Elsie Fritch, Abbie Holridge, Mary Amos, Grace Robinson, and Will H. Atlantic City Plans Novel Aviation Meet.

Atlantic City, June 20.—Three aeroplanes, with the foremost American aviators guiding them, will run the gauntlet of a withering fire from one of Uncle Sam's mightiest battle ships to take a chance on sending the ship to the bottom of the ocean with a well-directed bomb.

This is part of the programme for an over-the-ocean aviation meet that the Atlantic City Aero Club will hold during the week of July 4 to 31, inclusive. The "withering fire" and the "bomb" are to be taken only in the theoretical sense. The battle ship will train its guns on the airships and the aviators will drop bombs filled with sand. MASQUERADER HELD.

Woman Brought from Philadelphia on Serious Charge.

In the company of a United States marshal, Catherine C. Alcott arrived yesterday from Philadelphia and was taken to the District jail pending a hearing.

She is one of the trio who masqueraded as the wife of the famous actor and Mrs. Olcott's mother and maid. They lived in palatial style, and before leaving cashed something like $500 in checks.

Detectives Berman and Cox trailed the trio to Chicago, where they were arrested. It developed that Philadelphia had first claim on them, where they were said to have obtained $500. On their trial there the others, Mrs. Edwards and Miss Crooke, were acquitted, while the Alcott woman got a year in the State Penitentiary. She was released only a week ago, and was held in Philadelphia at the request of local authorities.

HEAT SMITES CAPITAL
BEFORE SUMMERTIME

Ninety in the Shade at 5 P. M., After a Day of "Sweltering, Sweating, and Swearing."

Washington had its first taste of summer yesterday, and throughout the day "sweltered, sweated, and swore." According to the Weather Bureau, summer will not begin officially until 3 a. m. to-morrow, but the unofficial brand served up yesterday will undoubtedly satisfy all who fumed and fretted with the oppressive heat that it is ahead of schedule.

The thermometer registered a maximum temperature of 90 degrees at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. Veracious citizens who were compelled to be on the streets during the day, say the Weather Bureau's thermometer was on ice.

Marvelous Mercury.

During the afternoon, as the thermometers went up, and linen collars went down, weather sharps would stride up and watch the mercury climb. It was somewhat of a novelty, after the March weather a few weeks ago, to have some summer.

"Eighty-five degrees," every weather sharp would say after looking at the thermometer. Immediately the full meaning of those three words dawned upon him, and he began to perspire the more. "Very gracious, I didn't think it was that hot," he murmured, as he trudged wearily to a soda fountain.

It was the first really warm day of the year, and the weather man promises a continuation of it. Cars were crowded yesterday afternoon with passengers seeking to escape the heat of the city streets, and the amusement parks did a big business. Ice cream dealers, soda clerks, and others felt the effects of the day in a marked increase by the demands for their refreshments.

CAR PICKPOCKET

ROBS N. GULICK

Gold Cigarette Case Is Lost by Clubman.

A clever pickpocket last night relieved the Newton Gulick, of the Metropolitan Club, of a gold cigarette case, valued at $50, while he was standing waiting for a car at Seventh street and Pennsylvania avenue.

Mr. Gulick states that just before stepping to the street he noticed a man edging near him and felt a tug at his coat. He turned, and the stranger, who was well dressed, asked him for a match. He did not discover his loss until he reached the club, where he makes his residence. Police detectives have been asked to look out for the thief, whom Mr. Gulick can identify.

The loss of two rings, one a diamond valued at $100 and the other a $25 sapphire, was reported by Fred R. Walker, of 139 Thomas street northwest. The thieves ransacked a second-story bedroom.

A warrant was placed in the hands of the detectives yesterday for the arrest of a white boy whom Miss Sadie Eilers charged with the theft of a diamond ring valued at $50. Miss Eilers says the ring was snatched from her hand while she was in a store making purchases.

Berlin, June 20.—A statement published here describes the Kaiser's temperate habits and asserts that for the last three years he has been almost a total abstainer. Would End Traffic in Girls.

Italian Cabinet Officer Recommends More Stringent Regulation.

Rome, June 20.—Speaking in the Chamber of Deputies to-day, the Marquis di San Giuliano, minister of foreign affairs, advocated passage of the bill regulating emigration. Such regulation, he said, had become a necessity. It was the intent of the bill, if it became a law, not only to protect emigrants and provide them with work, but to exercise a proper surveillance on their departure. This was aimed especially at the sending out of girls for illicit purposes.

So Japan reasoned that Hanhara could be used better elsewhere.

$20,000,000 VOTED
AT NIGHT SESSION

House Passes the Buildings Bill at 1 a. m.

FIVE OPPOSERS CRUSHED

Measure "Swallowed" with the Rules Suspended.

Sweltering Statesmen After Work of Many Hours Nearly Worn Out When Final Vote Is Taken Amid a Storm of Applause, Representative Sims, of Tennessee, Being Center of a Dramatic Scene in Congress.

With just five votes in opposition, the House, at 12:55 this morning, passed the omnibus public buildings bill, authorizing the expenditure of nearly $20,000,000.

It went through under suspension of the rules. There was no opportunity afforded for amendment. No single item in the bill could have been passed upon separately. It was swallowed as a whole amid scenes of great and noisy rejoicing, and the few men who took the floor against it were hooted down, derided, greeted with storms of mock applause, and all but insulted.

Not in many years has a night session of Congress been marked by such a demonstration.

The House seemed to have gone money mad, and every member, apparently, would have sat there until daylight patiently waiting the moment for the opening of the "pork barl."

ILLUSTRATION OF FEALITY.

It was a striking lesson in the fealty of Congress to business. It showed that when it wants to the House can get right down to hard work.

Apparently the neglect of the District, which has been refused all opportunities to be heard in Congress for six weeks, has been due to something else than lack of energy. One-half of the enthusiasm which was manifested for the public buildings bill would have sufficed to have passed every local bill which has for so long been awaiting action on the calendar.

It was a long, hot day. The Congressmen had heard that the "pork barl" bill was to come up Monday, and they were in their seats promptly at noon. The day wore on, and the leaders whetted their appetites, meanwhile securing the passage of a large number of bills on the "suspension day" calendar.

Heat waves beat up the members, but still the sweating members stuck.

Six o'clock came. Still no action on the public buildings bill. A recess was taken until 8 o'clock. There were no protests at night work. The House came back gladly, without grumbling, eager to cut the pie which meant large expenditures in favored districts, and a slice or two for nearly everybody.

Night Long and Hot.

Like hungry wolves waiting for their quarry to die, the statesmen sweltered through the lot, but night as though, sitting on their haunches and licking their chops with expectation, they cared nothing for fatigue nor discomfort so long as at last they got the prize.

It was nearly midnight when the bill was finally taken up. Not a Representative had departed. All were there. The big bill consisted of fifty pages. Under the rules it must be read. This would have taken an hour. It required about twenty minutes. The clerk read it in the high places only, and many pages at a time were skipped.

Finally the motion for the passage of the bill was made. Representative Sims, of Tennessee, took the floor in opposition. He started to denounce the method whereby a bill carrying $20,000,000 could be passed without the right of amendment, but he was interrupted by a vote.

Greeted with Derision.

A storm of derisive applause greeted him. Members banged their desk tops, shouted, laughed, whistled, until Mr. Sims could not be heard. Persisting, he managed to get in a few words above the din which the Speaker did but little to check. He declared that such a bill should be brought in just as any other appropriation bill, and opportunity be given for debate upon each paragraph, and for amendment.

The House thought that this view was extremely humorous. The members roared with laughter and banged their desk tops some more. Democrats, as well as Republicans, all shared in the pie, clamored for speech-making to be done by that real action might be had.

Representative Sulzer, of New York, arose to oppose the bill. He was not permitted to speak for almost five minutes because of the applause. Mr. Sulzer finally managed to roar out a protest against the method of appropriating $20,000,000 "of the taxpayers' money" without an opportunity being given for the amendment of the bill.

The Hon. "Bill" Sulzer couldn't get very far, for the noise. He declared that the scenes which were being enacted were not fitting the dignity of the House.

Representative Fitzgerald, of New York, a member of the House appropriation committee, also opposed that method of appropriating money. He had some pertinent questions to ask of Chairman Bartholdt, of the buildings committee, sponsor for the measure on the floor.
